“The catalogue of materials included herein contain sketches, little paintings, and envelopes and letters, many (but not all) ... contain drawings, doodles and sketches. It is largely these illustrative additions that give...a feeling of unique connection to the (artist) letter writer, and it is these totally personal additions to their communication that reveal something extra and purely personal of each of these artist correspondents' personalities.”
Claudia Seymour, President, Salmagundi Club

"By studying...technical aspects of an artist's works, (Mr. Katlan) gains great insight into the choice of pigments they used to create the works we all admire, as well as the organization of these paints on their palettes. The American art community is fortunate, indeed, to have such a recognized authority on the physical composition of historic paintings who is ever eager to share and disseminate this knowledge."

Claudia Seymour, President, Salmagundi Club

New Painting Exhibition History Available "allowing one access to invaluable information that simply was inaccessible for decades to scholars and researchers in American art."

— Artist Charles C. Curran, Peonies, Oil, Collection Salmagundi Club

Salmagundi Club Painting Exhibition Records 1940-1951 and Water Color Exhibition Records 1900-1951:

A Guide to the Annual Exhibition of Oil Paintings 1940-1951; Summer Exhibition of Pictures 1928-1950; Exhibition of Thumb Box Sketches 1938-1950; Special Annual Exhibition of Selected Paintings, WC, Prints and Sculpture 1945-1950; Annual Exhibition and Auction Sale of Pictures 1940-1951, Exhibition of Small Pictures 1928, 1931 and Annual Exhibition of Water Colors 1888-1951.

This is the last book in a series of three that has provided research into the history of the painting exhibitions of the Salmagundi Club and is actually two books in one. This book completes the research into the painting exhibitions from 1940 to 1951 and for the first time, the watercolor exhibitions of the Salmagundi Club are now available from 1900-1951 including important watercolorist Reynolds Beal, Walter Biggs, George E. Browne, John Carlson, Ogden M. Pleissner, Ernest Roth, Chauncey F. Ryder, Anthony Thieme, and John Alonzo Williams. This unknown painting exhibition history has been chronicled and indexed making available the artists, actual titles of the paintings, dates when these artworks were exhibited and prices when available. This exhibition directory provides comments by the author, an index of catalogues including art committees members, Salmagundi Club prizes and Thumb-Box awards in the oil painting exhibitions, a selection of Special artist, memorial and group exhibitions including such artists as Walt Kuhn, Charles Warren Eaton, F. Ballard Williams, Harrison Cady and a complete directory of artists and artwork alphabetically arranged in 623 pages including 317 black and white photographs of artwork and watercolors from the Salmagundi Club and private collections. In the special exhibitions starting 1945, major artists were included that were not members of the Salmagundi Club such as Charles Burchfield, Jon Corbino, Edward Hopper, Reginald Marsh, and Eugene Speicher.

Fine Art Connoisseur magazine November, 2008 recently reviewed Mr. Katlan books and states, "For decades now, scholars of American Art have longed to know exactly who showed what when at Salmagundi 's important exhibitions. Both books list-to the fullest extent possible-artist names, exhibition dates, artwork titles, prices paid, the names of committee members who juries and judges submissions, and prize-winning works."
